

Geri Parlby is a former Fleet Street journalist and film PR, with a first class honours degree in History and Theology, a Masters in History of Art from the Courtauld Institute and a Theology doctorate from Roehampton University. For the last eleven years she has been lecturing, both in the UK and abroad, and now leads the Visual Arts distance learning programme for Exeter University, as well as being Principal Lecturer on NADFAS South West Area's History of Art Foundation course. She is also an Honorary Research Fellow at the University of Roehampton and Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts.