

Roger Mitchell studied History at Oxford and Fine Art at Leeds. He then travelled and studied in the USA with a Churchill Award. A former college Vice-Principal, he now lectures at the University of Liverpool and for adult residential colleges. In addition to lecturing for NADFAS, he organises and leads country house tours and also carries out research at Chatsworth.