

Sue originally worked in art and design publishing and now lectures for NADFAS, the National Trust, U3A, the City Literary Institute and other historical and arts societies. She is a history graduate and a qualified Blue Badge Guide, who gives guided walks in London on a variety of themes, as well as guided tours of London galleries, exhibitions and palaces. She is a Fellow of the Huguenot Society of Great Britain and has published work on the lost world of the River Fleet.